

Alpha Recon: Proactive Risk Intelligence for Executive Protection

Turning intelligence into action.

Because true security isn't reactive anymore — it's risk-intelligent.

EP teams are being held to a higher standard. Clients and insurers increasingly expect documented risk assessment and ongoing monitoring, not assumptions. If you can't show what you assessed and why you made decisions, you're exposed. Alpha Recon provides EP teams with documentation they can actually use in operations, bids, and insurance conversations.

How Alpha Recon helps EP teams

Alpha Recon provides risk assessment and risk intelligence technology that EP teams use to:

- Increase revenue by supporting contract bids, renewals, and upsells
- Differentiate services beyond boots-on-the-ground protection
- Lower liability exposure through documented, defensible risk assessments
- Support insurance acceptance and premium reduction
- Improve security deliverables with risk intelligence that clients can see and understand
- Win and retain contracts by proving risk decisions to clients and insurers
- Back up contract scope and pricing with risk documentation

This is not general intelligence. It is risk intelligence built to plug directly into EP operations, bids, and insurance conversations.

What EP Teams Get from Alpha Recon

Recon Reports (EP's Favorite Product)

Operator-ready reports used for planning, briefing, bids, and documentation.

Common EP use cases:

- Threat & Vulnerability Assessments (TVAs) for principals, events, and tours
- Advance Risk Assessments for new or unfamiliar locations
- Event/Venue Risk Assessments tied to real operational decisions
- Ongoing monitoring add-ons when conditions change before movement
- Principal/Protectee baseline Vulnerability Profile

Each report is:

- Comprehensive and risk-management focused
- Directly applicable to security operations
- Documentable and briefable for clients, insurers, and inter-agency coordination

Bid + Insurance Support

Alpha Recon supports EP firms with:

- Bid and proposal support when intelligence is required
- Insurance-facing documentation for acceptance and premium discussions
- Differentiation against big-box security competitors

SecuReports (Membership)

- Monthly intelligence report covering emerging risks, incidents, and relevant developments
- Keeps EP teams informed between advances, events, and operations
- Provides context on what has changed and what may require further assessment
- Includes the opportunity to order discounted Recon Reports as needed

SecuRecon Platform

The platform is designed to address time-sensitive vulnerabilities through an easy-to-use workflow.

EP teams use SecuRecon to:

- Monitor emerging risks and vulnerabilities tied to principals, events, and assets
- Track signals across open, deep, and dark web sources
- Identify time-sensitive vulnerabilities and notify teams when risk conditions change

Recon Bytes

Recon Bytes are short, time-sensitive intelligence updates delivered through the platform to support ongoing monitoring and changing conditions.

"There is no longer a place in the EP market for planning and running security ops without risk intelligence, and Alpha Recon Technologies delivers." Security Operations Lead

Alpha Recon is the essential tool for modern Executive Protection.
